

Sometimes news comes so rapidly, I need to send out a quick newsletter to keep it from getting stale.

Please do not panic with today's news. "If ye are prepared, ye shall not fear." Listen to the brethren. It will take a little while for things to culminate, but the signs are here.

According to multiple visions about how WWII starts, consider these visions: (below)

Keep in mind that WWII and Armageddon are separate events, but close together.

There is the possibility that these is the lead up to WWII. IF Obama is the A/C, he was granted a continuance of 42 months, then this May is the end of that 42 mo. if the continuance was a stolen election. He would need to be in power with a military (not UN Pres) to lead the world's army against Israel.

Cardston Prophecy:

I saw first a brief but comprehensive sketch of the present state of the world, or as you would term it, the Gentile Kingdoms. Each country in turn was shown, its anarchy, hunger, ambitions, distrusts and warlike activities, etc., and in my mind was formed from some source the words, "As it is today with the Gentiles."

We are here today. Wars and rumors of wars, but be not afraid.

I saw international war again break out with its center upon the Pacific Ocean, but sweeping and encircling the whole globe.

The Chinese have been building up the Spratly Islands for war time activities.

I saw that the opposing forces were roughly divided by so-called Christianity on the one side, and by the so-called followers of Mohammed and Buddha on the other. I saw that the great driving power within these so-called Christian nations, was the Great Apostasy of Rome, in all its political, social and religious aspects. I saw the worldwide dislocation and devastation of production and slaughter of people occur more swiftly and upon a larger scale than ever before. I saw an antagonism begin to express itself from those so-called Christian nations against your people. I saw those with a similar faith to yours in the far east begin to look toward Palestine for safety.

This vision is from the 1930's. We were not having conflict with the middle east or Muslims until the last few decades. Notice Rome (Pope) is tagged for stirring up antagonism towards our people. IF the Pope is the second beast (False Prophet) then when the NWO is implemented and the LDS people refuse the Mark of the Beast, then it will be persecution like no other. The NWO is the goal here. All the upcoming events: biological warfare (plague), dollar collapse, civil war, etc., are designed to break America, the last hold-out. We must have our wealth, free markets gone, land ownership removed and our population reduced so we will beg for government support and be convinced of the NWO principles to survive. Communism is the counterfeit to the Law of Consecration.

I saw the international world war automatically break down, and national revolution occur in every country, and complete the work of chaos and desolation. I saw geological disturbances occur, which helped in this work as if it were intended to do so. I saw the Cardston Temple preserved from all of this geological upheaval. I saw the international boundary line disappear as these two governments broke up and dissolved into chaos. I saw race rioting upon the American continent on a vast scale.

Can you see now why the flames of racism are being stroked in our country?

CHARLES EVANS DREAM:

My vision now became extended in a marvelous manner, and the import of the past labors of the Elders was made plain to me. I saw multitudes fleeing to the place of safety in our mountain heights. The church was established in the wilderness.

Simultaneously the nation had reached an unparalleled prosperity, wealth unbounded, new territory was acquired, commerce extended, finance strengthened, confidence was maintained, and peoples abroad pointed to her as the model nation, the ideal of the past realized and perfected, the embodiment of the liberty sung by poets, and sought for by sages.

"But," continued the messenger, Thou beholdest a change. Confidence is lost. Wealth is arrayed against labor, labor against wealth, yet the land abounds with plenty for food and raiment, and silver and gold are in abundance. Thou seest also that letters written by a Jew have wrought great confusion in the finances of the nation which, together with the policy of many wealthy ones, has produced distress and do presage further sorrow."

Factions now sprang up as if by magic; capital had entrenched itself against labor throughout the land; labor was organized against capital. The voice of the wise sought to tranquilize these two powerful factors in vain. Excited multitudes ran wildly about; strikes increased; lawlessness sought the place of regular government. At this juncture I saw a banner floating in air whereon was written the words Bankruptcy, Famine, Floods, Fire, Cyclones, Blood, Plague. Mad with rage men and women

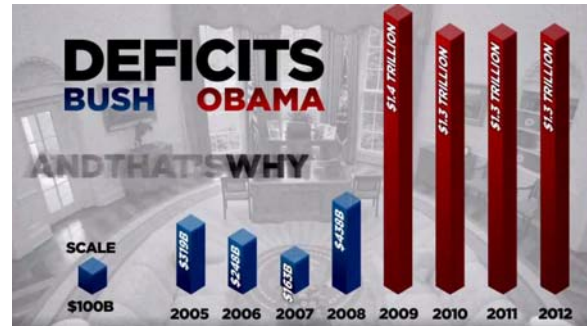

He saw a "call out" before he saw the plague and civil war.

Janet Yellen (Chairman of the Federal Reserve) is a Jew. So is Alan Greenspan.

Once the dollar is collapsed (different than a stock market collapse) then you will see civil war. Please have a plan to stay out of harm's way.

rushed upon each other. Blood flowed down the streets of cities like water. The demon of bloody hate had enthroned itself on the citadel of reason; the thirst for blood was intenser than that of the parched tongue for water. Thousands of bodies lay untonbed in the streets. Men and women fell dead from the terror inspired from fear. Rest was but the precursor of the bloody work of the morrow. All around lay the mournfulness of a past in ruins. Monuments erected to perpetuate the names of the noble and brave were ruthlessly destroyed by combustibles. A voice now sounded aloud these words, Yet once again I shake not the earth only, but also heaven. And this word yet once again signifies the removing of things that are shaken, as of things that are made; that those things that cannot be shaken may remain."

Earthquakes rent the earth in vast chasms, which engulfed multitudes; terrible groanings and wailings filled the air; the shrieks of the suffering were indescribably awful. Water wildly rushed in from the tumultuous ocean whose very roaring under the mad rage of the fierce cyclone, was unendurable to the ear. Cities were swept away in an instant, missiles were hurled through the atmosphere at a terrible velocity and people were carried upward only to descend in unrecognized mass. Islands appeared where ocean waves once tossed the gigantic steamer. In other parts voluminous flames, emanating from vast fires, rolled with fearful velocity destroying life and property in their destructive course. The seal of the dread menace of despair was stamped on every healing visage; men fell exhausted, appalled and trembling. Every element of agitated nature seemed a demon of wrathful fury. Dense clouds, blacker than midnight darkness, whose thunders reverberated with intonations which shook the earth, obscured the sunlight. Darkness reined, unrivalled and supreme.

Again the light shone, revealing an atmosphere tinged with a leaden hue, which was the precursor of an unparalleled plague whose first symptoms were recognized by a purple spot which appeared on the cheek, or on the back of the hand, and which, invariably, enlarged until it spread over the entire surface of the body, producing certain death. Mothers, on sight of it, cast away their children as though they were poisonous reptiles. This plague, in grown persons, rotted the eyes in their sockets and consumed the tongue as would a powerful acid or an intense heat. Wicked men, suffering under its writhing agonies, cursed God and died, as they stood on their feet, and the birds of prey feasted on their carcasses.

I saw in my dream the messenger again appear with a vile in his right hand, who addressing me said: Thou knowest somewhat of the chemistry taught in the schools of human learning, behold now a chemistry sufficiently powerful to change the waters of the sea."

He then poured out his vile upon the sea and it became putrid as the blood of a dead man, and every living soul therein died. Other plagues followed I forbear to record. A foreign power had invaded the nation which, from every human indication, it appeared would seize the government and supplant it with monarchy. I stood trembling at the aspect, when, lo, a power arose in the west which declared itself in favor of the constitution in its original form; to this suddenly rising power every lover of constitutional rights and liberties throughout the nation gave hearty support. This struggle was fiercely contested, but the stars and stripes floated in the breeze, and, bidding defiance to opposition, waved proudly over

Remember, from Revelations the plagues were sent as a punishment for going against Israel.

Notice the word "laden hue" as that was used in other visions.

America is finally invaded. Remember GA Smith's vision. We will get attacked when a non-European president is leaving office. Also, Joseph Smith's words:

"The United States will spend her strength and means warring in foreign lands until the other nations will say, "Let us divide up the lands of the United States" .

the land. Among the many banners I saw, was one inscribed thus: The government based on the constitution, now and forever;" on another Liberty of Conscience, social, religious, and political."

The light of the gospel which had but dimly shown because of abomination, now burst forth with a luster that filled the earth. Cities appeared in every direction, one of which, in the center of the continent, was an embodiment of architectural science after the pattern of eternal perfections, whose towers glittered with a radiance emanating from the sparkling of emeralds, rubies, diamonds and other precious stones set in a canopy of gold and so elaborately and skillfully arranged as to shed forth a brilliancy which dazzled and enchanted the eye, excited admiration and developed a taste for the beautiful, beyond anything man had ever conceived. Fountains of crystal water shot upward their transparent jets which in the brilliant sunshine, formed ten thousand rainbow tints at once delightful to the eye. Gardens, the perfections of whose arrangement confound all our present attempts at genius, bedecked with flowers of varied hue to develop and refine the taste, and strengthen the love for these natures chastest adornments. Schools and universities were erected, to which all had access; in the latter Urims were placed, for the study of the past, present and future, and for obtaining a knowledge of the heavenly bodies, and of the constructions of worlds and universes. The inherent properties of matter, its arrangements, laws, mutual relations were revealed and taught and made plain as the primer lesson of a child. The conflicting theories of geologists regarding the formation and age of the earth were settled forever. All learning was based on eternal certainty. Angels brought forth the treasures of knowledge which had lain hid in the womb of the dumb and distant past.

Awww yes, New Jerusalem is the center of the continent, and yes, once the cleansing is over, we can prepare for the return of our Savior!

Here are the notes from the regional conference that so many of you would have been included in. (Thank you Heidi Hanson)

Stake Conference Broadcast
Feb 14, 2016

The third speaker, one of the members of the seventy, had a particularly pointed talk about our day. Here are a few of the notes from his talk specifically.

We live in challenging and perilous times. We are living in the last days. In that day the whole earth shall be in commotion. We are in this time now. We might be troubled fearful or terrified. All the calamities may insight fear and anxiety. However, he was to deliver the following message. Fear Not. Be not afraid only believe. Let not your heart be troubled. Be not afraid. Be not frightened.

His talk focused on the following three themes:

1. Keep you eyes fixed on the lord
2. Trust in the lord
3. Stand with his church leaders

Elder Renland's focus was on not trying to justify our standards and commandments to others, it will never meet the justification required of the world. Instead, we need to explain to the world that our standards come from direct revelation from God, as received by the prophet Joseph Smith and our current prophet.

Elder Renland quoted Marvin J Ashton, and I loved this quote: The best indicator we have we are coming closer to Christ is that we have loving feelings toward others. He also said It's ok to disagree. It's not ok to be disagreeable.

Elder Grove spoke about hearing and listening to the Lords voice. One way to do this is to study the scriptures. To have a love affair with the scriptures as Hinkley once said.

You need to study and know the doctrines to be able to teach others. Family scripture study needs to be the priority. The scriptures contain the lords voice.

Prayer is a critical thing. Study is a catalyst for prayer. Watch and pray continually. Personal revelation flows from study and prayer.

We need to listen to and internalize the words of the sacrament prayer. He walked through the meaning of each of the phrases in the sacrament prayer and what this means for us. We are what needs to be sanctified.

--post-note--

From conference yesterday I remember the speaker from the seventy saying a few additional things that struck me.

He referenced Peter walking on the water while he had his eyes fixed on the Lord. It was when Peter looked away from Christ toward the water that he then began to sink. Keep your focus on Christ (do not focus on calamities).

He also mentioned that we live in frightening times where (specifically) governments may crumble, economies may crash, and chaos may ensue.

And he started his talk by boldly proclaiming "we are living in the last days before the second coming of the Savior."

Chilling. And amazing.

Of course we have the passing of one of our best Supreme Court Justices. I'm going to put two memes on the next page to tell you how I feel.

Yep. Died of natural causes.

Just a reminder why we are fighting for freedom, living our lives in defense of the gospel truths and saved for these last days.

President Benson was the torch bearer for these principles.

Never give up! Don't despair! We have been chosen to "stay in the game" and be a player to bring home a win. Keep a positive and grateful attitude. KNOW who you are, let nothing discourage you. KNOW what the game plan is and speak with confidence. KNOW who wins in the end. KNOW you are going to stay the course and comfort others along the way. KNOW you are chosen.

If you have some time, listen to this audio in the background while you work. It has a lot of good ideas how things are going to go down from a nonmember point of view (Thank you Diane).
